2010 Beacon Youth Financial Education Award Guidelines for Submitting Nominations

Purpose

The vision of the Richard Myles Johnson (RMJ) Foundation is to "shine a brighter light on financial education." In the spirit of this vision, the Annual RMJ Foundation's Beacon Youth Financial Education Award is given.

The Beacon Youth Financial Education Award recognizes the work of those promoting the principles of the credit union movement through education. Nominees can include individuals, credit unions, corporations, other non-profit organizations, or media – anyone that is shining a brighter light on youth financial education.

Eligible Activities

Classroom-based curriculum, community educational projects, public awareness campaigns, theatrical presentations, television, radio or Web-based programming, newspaper columns dedicated to youth financial literacy, and others. Qualifying entities: Credit unions, corporations, school systems, non-profit, organizations, media, and individuals.

Impact of Financial Education

The financial education support material submitted with the application should feature both quantifiable elements (number of persons impacted, measurable ways in which the program or project communicated its message, etc.) and how it made a difference in people's lives. Special consideration will be given to innovation, creativity, and risk-taking activities that have a broad impact on financial education in the community.

Procedures

Form of Nomination: Application form, Summary Statement, Support Documentation.
Use application form provided. Support document should be in the most concise format possible.
(Please send a hard copy and an electronic version, including supporting documents.)

Rules and Responsibilities

Nominees need not be members of a credit union; however, all nominations must be made through a credit union or chapter. A nominee may be nominated by more than one credit union. This will not increase chance of winning and all nominators will be given equal weight.

Nomination Deadline

The Foundation is seeking nominations for the 2009 awards, to be presented at the Beacon Awards Gala held the day prior to the California's Credit Union League's Annual Meeting and Convention. The deadline for nominations is September 15, 2010.

November 14, 2010: Beacon Award activities

The awards will be presented at the Beacon Awards Gala on Sunday, November 14, 2010. The event will be held at The Disneyland Hotel in Anaheim, CA.
